LEGEND

High content of probiotics and active probiotic bacteria strains are very important component in the lacto-fermentation process (anaerobic process). Bars contain combination of 4 strains of probiotic bacteria (Lactobacillus acidophilus, Lactobacillus plantarum, Streptococcus thermophilus and Bifidobacterium Lactis).

It is proven that the bacteria of lacto-fermentation process have a positive impact on digestive tract health with effect on the entire human body. As each probiotic strain has a unique ability, it is important to note that thanks to the combination of different probiotic strains in bar, the positive effects are multiplied:

- Lactobacillus acidophilus mitigates symptoms of lactose intolerance, alleviates the irritable bowel syndrome, protects against yeast infections
- Lactobacillus plantarum has significant anti-inflammatory effect, reduces flatulence and abdominal pain, generally improves digestive system
- Streptococcus thermophilus improves skin condition, helps in the treatment of atopic dermatitis and psoriasis, lowers cholesterol level and reduces symptoms of lactose intolerance
- Bifidobacterium Lactis helps with digestive issues caused by harmful bacteria and also with digestion; it is one of the most beneficial probiotics. It helps to reduce the risk of diarrhea, which arises due to changes in the environment when traveling abroad, helps to eliminate constipation- increases bowel movements; helps to reduce toxic waste in the colon and numbers of enterobacteria and clostridia
